An open meeting with Singaporean actress Ang Gey Pin

Monday 29th October 1-2 pm
Aphra Theatre, University of Kent at Canterbury

Ang Gey Pin's professional trajectory is unique. Paradoxically, her choice to live and work outside her home country is strongly based in her interest in recovering her Chinese heritage. Ang's theatre apprenticeship began in her native Singapore in 1986. She graduated from the Theatre Department at the University of Hawaii in 1992. She had researched ancient Chinese texts, traditional songs, drumming, tai chi when she co-founded and was the artistic director of Theatre OX (1995-2006). A former member of the Workcenter of Jerzy Grotowski and Thomas Richards (Italy), Ang was the lead actress in the group's 'Project The Bridge: developing theatre arts', One breath left (1998-2002) and Dies Irae: My Preposterous Theatrum Interioris Show (2003-2006). She has performed and taught internationally. She was Artist-in-Residence/Visiting Instructor of Theatre at The Wesleyan University, USA (Fall 06). Her recent works include: By The Way (2006) and Winter Never Came Spring Already Arrived (2007).
